Florida School for Dance Education's primary goal is to train dancers for their futures, whatever their aspirations may be. FSDE's teachers believe in an all encompassing approach to training students. We realize that the lines of dance styles are becoming blurred and serious minded students must, above all, be versatile. Florida School for Dance Education also understands the awesome responsibility handed to us with the care of these students. We recognize that only through a nurturing environment will the students be able to explore and develop into confident and dynamic adults, no matter which path they choose to pursue.
